Hi! I'm Quinsha, a creative student with a big passion for drawing and writing. I love turning ideas into colorful illustrations and meaningful stories. Art and words help me express myself and share my view of the world. Besides drawing and writing, I enjoy chocolate, learning new things, and I'm also interested in public speaking because I want to be confident when speaking in front of others. I'm currently learning and growing every day, and this portfolio reflects my journey so far.
